5. (Unclassified - RJW) LEGISLATION I spoke this morning with Bill Heckman, Department of Justice, Office of Legislative Affairs, to ask if someone from the DCI's office had been in contact with Justice concerning the DCI's schedule (10-23 through 10-27) and his availability for subject signing ceremony. Bill said he had spoken with a [redacted] in the DCI's office and would be back in contact with her as soon as a date/time certain had been named. According to Bill, the White House, as of this writing, has yet to place the ceremony on the White House appointment calendar.

I asked if any other CIA personnel would be able to attend. Bill said that a list of attendees, prepared by Fred Baron, Justice Department, Office of Legal Counsel, included thereon: DCI, DDCI, G.C., L.C., and [redacted] This list has been forwarded to the White House who will be contacting us with regard to the date/time certain. Bill said the signing ceremony itself will take place in the Cabinet meeting room whose size will dictate the numbers permitted to attend.

6. (Unclassified - LLM) LIAISON Talked to Norvill Jones, Chief of Staff, Senate Foreign Relations Committee, to make sure that Richard Grimmitt and Robert Bell, both with the Library of Congress, Congressional Research Service, were in fact working for the Committee on a foreign military sales study, which Jones affirmed. Jones agreed that the Committee would be responsible for their actions and if we had any problems because of their desire to get into unusually sensitive areas to let him know.

7. (Unclassified - LLM) LIAISON Richard Grimmitt, Library of Congress, Congressional Research Service, called about the status of the request they had for a briefing in support of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee report on foreign arms sales. I told him arrangements were set for a half hour session on 24 October with [redacted] CSS/NFAC, and [redacted] OER, for he and his co-worker, Robert Bell. [redacted] will also sit in as the representative from OLC.
